

Employment Security Commission of North Carolina

News Release

For More Information, Contact:

Larry Parker/919.733.4329

Andy James

For Immediate Release

July 13, 2009

ESC Moves Into New Ahoskie Offices July 27

RALEIGH — The Employment Security Commission office in Ahoskie will be moving to a new location on the campus of Roanoke-Chowan Community College on Thursday, July 23. The office will reopen inside the Hertford County JobLink Center, now hosted by the college, on Monday, July 27.

The new address will be 109 Community College Road. The ESC will have office hours from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

“We are thrilled that we will be able to continue servicing the needs of our customers in this region with a local presence,” said ESC Chairman Moses Carey Jr. “Our new location will allow the ESC to provide a wide range of services to customers in the Hertford County area — including assistance in finding jobs, filing for unemployment insurance and giving assistance to employers.

“We also want to thank the Choanoke Area Development Association for all of its assistance to us and our customers over the past few months. It was invaluable.”

For additional information, please call Andy James or Larry Parker in the ESC Public Information Office at 919.733.4329.

###

This information may be accessed on the ESC's World Wide Web page, at <http://www.ncesc.com>